POLITICS AND STRIKES

Politics and strikes have had an effect on the nation's postal service that rain nor sleet can never hope to match. As a result of the rail strike, mail service in many parts of the nation has slowed to the worst tempo in a hundred years.

The Senate Post Office Committee, which has been hearing from customers of the postal service, voted, 9-0, to order Postmaster General Donaldson to restore the postal service to its status before his recent "economy" order. Only in certain areas had people been aware, before the rail strike, that actual cutbacks in postal service had occurred. In most metropolitan areas the full effect is scheduled to be felt on June 1.

Postmaster General Donaldson gave as his reasons for the April 18 service cut the refusal of Congress to give him the postal rate increases he had requested. It is widely held that this was a typical bureaucratic trick — a cut in personnel and services, just at appropriation time, to raise a hue and cry and bring quick, positive results on Capitol Hill.

It is to be noted that the Postmaster General has not called upon Congress to enact the recommendations made by the Hoover Commission, which would result in savings of $200,000,000 a year in operations of the department, without curtailment of services.
What Donaldson wants is higher rates.

With pressure from patrons of the postal service mounting, it is likely that the House and Senate will go along with the committee and cancel the cuts in service and personnel. But unless the Hoover recommendations are enacted, this will be a clear victory for Donaldson, as Congress will have to provide the money to operate the department on its present inefficient basis.

Citizens of Ottumwa, Iowa, baked a cake for President Truman. Of course, they knew he was coming.

In a test conducted at Yale University only three out of nine persons turned out to be good liars. Tests as well as polls can be notoriously inaccurate, it seems.

Congressmen have turned President Truman down again.
And Harry is going to tell the people on them.

Four hundred deadly cobras are to be brought to the United States for experimental purposes. Here's hoping this turns out better than Roosevelt's action in "recognizing" Russia in 1933.

It has been quite a time since anything was heard of that brave, new world which was to banish want and fear, and in which we were all to live high on the hog on each other's taxes.

Relations between the United States and Argentina are improving, but it is not revealed how much this will cost the American taxpayer.

Nationalists in China Bank On A Guerrilla Factor

boys so dedicated to the cause of Chinese democracy. Many could remain in Formosa but they prefer to return to the mainland to perform their dangerous duty.

Supplies, the informant said, reach the guerrillas under the very noses of the Communists. Most reportedly are smuggled into the coastal provinces from the many small islands that dot the coast.

Particularly needed, he says, are radio equipment, light arms, field glasses, first aid kits and anti-malaria drugs.

As an example of effective espionage work, he cites an incident which he says occurred near Amoy, opposite Formosa, in March.

The guerrilla organizer claims that hours after the guerrillas relayed information about activities at an airfield, Nationalist planes swooped down, shot up the field and many of the aircraft parked on it.

Observers who do not agree with the informant on the extent and effectiveness of the guerrilla movement so far, nevertheless are convinced of the tremendous guerrilla potential of China.

They reason that the Chinese family life and the attitude of most Chinese that "the government is best which governs least" are tremendous obstacles to Communist attempts to organize China.

And they also agree that the Chinese, by nature, are adept underground workers as they demonstrated in the war against Japan.

Rightly or wrongly, the Nationalists feel that the guerrilla movement not only can weaken the Communist attempt to push on throughout Asia but will pave the way for eventual invasion of the mainland which the Nationalists say is sure to come.

As for the guerrilla organizer, he intends to continue his activities regardless of the outcome in China.
Pointing a pencil at the large and appropriately colored red portion of the map, he said:

"Wherever Communists have not gained power, they are organizing minorities against majorities; that is, everywhere in the still-free world.

"But my job is to operate in Communist controlled areas to mobilize majorities against their minority rulers."

(Tomorrow: Soviet aid to Communist China.)

Activities for the day included a trek to the picturesque tower and a baseball game. Many persons visited the soldiers' graves, while others rambled along the numerous footpaths by the river. As the last person straggled to the bus at the end of the day, one sentiment was shared by all — it was a tiring but wonderful day for everyone.

ting at 1 o'clock was out until 9 o'clock with the exception of 6:30 to 7:30 when they had dinner at the Bucks County Inn.

All of the injured four plaintiffs were passengers in Weinstein's car.
Mrs. Peters, wife of the paraplegic plaintiff, and the driver, Weinstein, escaped uninjured.

Counsel for the plaintiffs were Arthur M. Eastburn, Jr., Thomas Ross, Isaac J. and Donald W. Van Artsdalen, of town, and John Dan-

The trial, involving six plaintiffs, four cases all growing out of the same set of facts — a two car crash — revolved about the heaviest claim for damages, $130,145, here in court for years.

Bayard Homsher at his home in Darby, Pa.

Telephone Man

For 42 years, Bayard Homsher served Bell Telephone customers ... as an installer, as a repairman, and in central offices.

Today, five years after retiring, Bayard Homsher is still a "telephone man." "If I had to do it all over again," he says, "I'd still want to work for Bell."

Like other telephone people, he was able to plan his retirement.
With steady work, with security against loss of pay through sickness or accident, and with the knowledge that he would receive a pension on retiring, he was able to save enough of his earnings to buy his home outright, and to bring up a family of two children.

Bell's Pension and Benefit Plan is important to many hundreds of retired telephone people in Pennsylvania... and to many thousands of telephone men and women on the job today. It's important also to telephone users; for by good wages, steady employment, and financial security this company attracts the kind of people necessary to provide consistently good telephone service.

2 LOCAL BOWLERS HIT THE MONEY IN TOURNAMENT

Albert "Kemps" Boccardo and Andy Moore, two bowlers from Bristol, hit the "money" bracket in the 47th annual American Bowling Congress at Columbus, Ohio, on Sunday.

The pair posted an 1,103 score in the doubles event. A score of 1,092 was good for prize money at Atlantic City last year.

Boccardo, who last winter rolled a perfect score on the Bristol Recreation Center alley, rolled scores of 178, 214, and 184 while Moore had 170, 192, and 165.

Boccardo also came up with a three-game score of 593, while the Parkway Inn team, of Bristol, bowled a 2,553 score.

In the singles, Bob Robinson bowled a 578 score.

Other scores made by the Parkway team were: Delbert Lynn, 499; Bill Wicher, 497; Robinson, 435; Moore, 529; and Boccardo, 593.

Wayne Warner, the sixth member of the team, bowled a 491 score in the doubles, pairing with Robinson, and 525 in the singles.

ANNOUNCE ROSTERS OF SOFTBALL TEAMS

During the past month, the managers of the Bristol Softball League have checked over the rules and regulations and made a few changes. They retained the rule that prohibits a player to play with another softball team on the night his team is scheduled to play a Bristol League game. Baseball players will be forbidden to enter a softball game if 3 innings of said game is played. A new player must be signed at least 48 hours before he will be eligible to play.

Some of the team rosters are: Jefferson: Steve Ciotti, Francis Costantino, Albert Giambella, Victor Cauti, John Ciambella, Harold Peltz, Tony Cauti, Ed Hunter, Thomas Ruggieri, Sam Imperator, Vito Marsaglia, Jasper Ferraro, Albert Ciotti, G. Carbelli, C. Cauti, Ray Pierandozzi, A. Lewis, and J. Capecci. Second Ward: Joseph Sallustio, Michael Perrone, Henry Accardi, Frank Sagolla, Frank Chichiletti, Gene Barbetta, Cornelius Chichiletti, Joseph Elmer, Samuel Sottile, Nathaniel Chichiletti, Leo Fiorrelli, Ernest A. Pinelli, Louis Pizzullo, John Fiorelli, Joseph Stallone.

Auto Boys: Bert Miles, William Stockton, C. A. Schreiber, Reggie Gerome, Joe Roe, John Walker, Art Krames, Frank Elker, Jack Haines, Edwin Harris, William Wright, Vince Stratton, Charles Kohler, John Dowd, Leon Plavin, Ralph Linck, and Robert Elker.

SECOND WARD A. C. TO MEET AUTO BOYS

Second Ward A. C., defending champions of the Bristol Softball League, will meet the Auto Boys aggregation this evening on Memorial Park field. Game will begin at 6:15 o'clock.

The circuit was scheduled to open last evening with two games scheduled but both were called off due to weather conditions. The Jefferson and Franklin game has been re-scheduled for Memorial field, Friday evening.

Second Ward is now under the joint management of "Lou" Pizzullo and Cornelius Chichiletti and is out to retain its championship, having signed most of the players from last season's squad.

Auto Boys is a new entry into the Suburban loop and is managed by Bert Miles. Miles has done a fine job in moulding together a fast team in the short space of time he has been in charge of the team. The Auto Boys were voted into the circuit last week.

In the afternoon, the ceremony of the coronation of the Blessed Virgin took place in St. Ann's Church. A colorful procession, starting in the school grounds, proceeded through the streets leading to church. Participating in the procession were the children of St.
Ann's parochial school, attired in uniform; following them were the first communicants; and lastly the May Queen, her attendants, flower girls and court.
Marie Cordisco was May Queen.
She carried a white satin pillow on which rested the Blessed Mother's crown of talisman roses. Caroline Dorsey and Virginia Comegno were the queen's attendants. They were attired in blue and green and carried bouquets of tallman roses. The flower girls were: Wanda Diamanti, Marie Clotti, Carol DiVito, Kathleen McNichol and Christine Marie Ri-vota. These, too, were attired in green gowns and carried bouquets of yellow snapdragons and talisman roses.
